Electronic Health Records for School-Based Clinics

School-based Clinics (SBC) are an increasingly vital source of health care for our nation's students. Nightingale Notes provides school health practitioners with tremendous capabilities to document care provided in school-based clinics as well as the ability to collect and aggregate data to provide clear evidence of the effectiveness of your program.

How can Nightingale Notes be used in School Based Clinics?

Nightingale Notes is a powerful application which has been successfully customized by a wide variety of community and public health programs to meet program-specific needs. You can use Nightingale Notes to create electronic health records or print out hard copy reports for a paper chart.

In addition to the existing screens, SBC practitioners can create custom tabs and fields to ensure that required data is collected and easy to retrieve in our report wizard. Data, previously captured on existing agency-specific questionnaires, assessment forms, history forms, etc. can be captured on custom tabs. It's easy! Ask us to show you how!

Pathways (care plans) are already built into Nightingale Notes for a variety of client populations using the Omaha System clinical language. Pathways eliminate guesswork, errors and missed opportunities. They are a guide to documentation of identified problems, interventions, and outcomes measurements. Client-specific information is easily added to make individualized care plans. Our pathways were created to streamline the documentation for your staff; all of the information they need is right there in one place.

Omaha System experts and clinicians from local Health Departments are currently working with us to develop pathways specific to the populations seen in School-Based Clinics. Any Nightingale Notes pathway can be modified by your agency to meet your specific needs now and in the future as program requirements change. You can also create your own pathways as the need arises!

The Report Wizard allows you to create customized reports for your program's clinical and administrative needs. You can aggregate data using built-in and custom fields. This assists you in not only providing quality care, but in documenting the effectiveness of that care to stakeholders.

CHAMP Software continues to stay abreast of the needs of the school health community. We are continually researching and working with clinicians like you, to provide you with tools to make your job easier.
